“NDID Scene”

By Amy Nash, NDID President

It has definitely been an interesting year & summer. We have seen a lot haven't we—an economy that is racked with turmoil, many designers out of work, businesses cutting back & struggling, crazy schedules, changes, ect.

NDID is no exception, we had a lofty set of goals last year & although we offered twice as many educational opportunities as in the past, we didn't get to some of our goals. We had a harder time with our website transition than planned. Although the new program will save the organization thousands of dollars in the long run, it was a painful transition for the board members that focused on that. Please thank them for their hard work. Last year we had the goal of more fun social-type events & although we had a wonderful Holiday project with Fraser Ltd. (Thank you Monica), Holiday party (Thank you Jenna) & a great June Bowling outing (Thank you Nicole, Kami & Quinn), we didn't plan further social events to get everyone together. As a perfect segway, that is one of our big goals for 2010-2011.

The outgoing & incoming Executive Board had a combined meeting where we recapped the comments from the Showcase survey as well as the emails that were sent following the event. After our brainstorming session to address last year and re-route the road for this year, the following items were our final list of items that we wanted to share with you:

- Be more practice focused vs so NCIDQ focused
- Add more of the 'Fun-Factor' back into NDID
- Incorporate a welcome person and look into a mentoring program with the NDSU Interior Design Students
- Coordinate with the NDSU Interior Design Students on tours
- Have a Vendor/Sales Representative Appreciation Event
- Have a community event with PR (mark your calendars—we have Canstruction spring of 2011)

This year's board is very excited about the direction for the year and we feel like this is the year in which we can build a wonderful momentum. There are many ways in which you can get involved without blocking huge amounts of time in your schedule. We would love to help you let some of your creative juices flow in planning a fun event to help a charity you feel strongly about or just a fun event for the...well...fun of it. Please contact me to get involved or if you have a great group or charity that we should help this year!

Join us at our Kick-off Meeting & make this your “Year of Momentum” as you rejuvenate your connections with colleagues, see what is going on with the NDSU Interior Design Program, and attend CEU's as they are offered. Without your involvement, NDID is not as strong—You are NDID. Make this Your best year yet & it will be our best year too!

Thank you & looking forward to seeing you all....
